

BILLY SUNDAY RAISING HOGS TO AID HOOVER

Billy Sunday is in the hog business. While he is fighting the Kaiser with his tongue he is also fighting him with his money—in other words, by buying Liberty bonds and war savings stamps—it looked out at Sunday headquarters today.

When Food Administrator Hoover sent broadcast an "S O S" for "hogs, hogs, and more hogs" last September, Billy Sunday wired his half-brother, L. C. Heizer, in Hood River, Ore., to purchase a hog ranch in that township which Billy had known for a long time could be bought for a reasonable figure.

"You just go to it, Ray," he wired his brother, "and see how many hogs you can raise."

And Mr. Heizer has gone to it, from reports received from that little Oregon town. The pigsties of the ranch are numerous, substantial, and well-populated.

Mr. Heizer has marketed a number of swine lately, but none of them brought him into the limelight until he hitched up the big farm truck one morning recently and rolled to town with a pig that tipped the scales at 600 pounds. Fourteen cents a pound was the market quotation that day, and Mr. Heizer pocketed a check for $85.26 for the animal.

W. J. Ellis, the Hood River butcher, who purchased this hog, stated that it was the largest he had ever seen, and that if Mr. Sunday kept on raising porkers of this size, Mr. Hoover will soon cry "enough."

ROOSEVELT ACCEPTS HONOR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Colonel Roosevelt has formally accepted the honorary presidency of the American Defense Society, according to an announcement of the secretary of the executive committee, Lindley M. Garrison, former Secretary of War, has been elected a member of the board of trustees.

20 MILLION PEOPLE USE CASCARETS—WHY

Only True Tonic for Liver and Bowels Costs
10 Cents a Box.

Cascarets are a treat. They live your liver, clean your thirty feet of bowels, and sweeten your stomach. You eat one or two Cascarets like candy before going to bed, and in the morning your head is clear, tongue is clean, stomach sweet, breath bright, and cold gone and you feel grand.

Get a 10 or 25 cent box at any drug store and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Stop sick headaches, bilious spells, indigestion, furred tongue, offensive breath, and constipation. Mothers should give Cascarets, feverish, bilious children a whole Cascaret any time.

BILLY GIVES TRAIL HITTERS LEAFLETS TO SAVE VOICE

Billy Sunday has gone in for voice conservation.

Notice the scene in the tabernacle: The sinner comes down the sawdust trail and grasps Billy Sunday's hand. Billy may possibly murmur "God bless you," or something equivalent, but Billy doesn't say very much, not after bawling the Devil out for an hour. But here is where the voice conservation comes in.

Billy hands the "trail hitter" a neat little leaflet, containing definitions of a Christian and advice as to how to live a Christian life.

"Study the Bible," it reads; "pray much; win some one for Christ; shun evil companions; join a church; give to the support of the Lord's work, and don't get discouraged."

This little leaflet idea saves Billy a lot of breath.

What is contained in the leaflet are the very phrases Billy would have to personally express to the "trail hitter."

In the carpeted church the sinner comes forward with bowed head, hands the pastor his hand, while the pastor pours into his ears the very phrases that Billy has in his little book.

But not so at the tabernacle. The "trail hitters," there being always more than one, come forward, walking briskly. They actually grab Billy's hand. Billy hands them the little leaflet. Voice conservation.

"RECLAMATION" IS THEME.

"Reclamation a War Measure" will be the subject of a lecture to be delivered by C. J. Blanchard, statistician and lecturer, under the auspices of the National Geographic Society at the auditorium of the new Masonic Temple this afternoon at 4:45 o'clock and tonight at 8 o'clock.

Billy's Telling Pinch Hits in Religious Cause

Present yourself wholly to God. Lots of people shy at that word "wholly." If that were our watchword in this business what a wonderful world this would be; what a stampede there would be in short yard sticks. Graft would be unknown. No lying in advertisements. No "fire sale" when there hadn't been a fire in four blocks for four months. There would be no licensed saloon, no drunkards reeling to the judgment of God. No thieves. No fallen women.

Wonderful!

One of the noblest attributes of God is reason. God never asks humanity to do anything that is not good for it. God will ask some hard things, but they are never unreasonable. I believe no Divine law was ever made for us that we would not have made ourselves had we known the facts as God knows them. God Almighty's time is any time and all the time. God doesn't want us to look as though having religion was worse than having the toothache.

Love of country and love of God are synonymous. Keep looking forward.

16,000 MEN HEAR BILLY; GIVE HIM 'RAH, RAH' CHEERS

And they came from the east and the west and the north and the south, by tens and hundreds and tens of hundreds into the tabernacle; from Petworth, from Georgetown, from Hyattsville, from Takoma Park, from all points of the District, to do honor to the greatest evangelist of modern times.

Sixteen thousand men, representing the Bible classes of Washington, packed and jammed their way into the great wooden structure on the Union Station Plaza last night. They were attended by bands and marched into the doors of the building in streams some a block long. With them they brought unqualified enthusiasm, pep, zip, go, vigor.

"Ray, ray, ray,
U—S—A—
A—m—e—r—i—c—
Ray! Ray! Ray!

Old style college yells were outdone by the latest thing in the pattern, delivered from the lusty lungs of 600 soldiers from American University camp, who tramped into the tabernacle behind a boy scout band.

"Rah, Rah, Rah" is Cry.

But they had opposition.

Rah, rah, rah,
E-l-l-i-j-h S-a-a-y
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Billy Sunday! Billy Sunday!

The staccato vocal thump, thump of these slogans, reminiscent of college days filled the tabernacle all night with the spirit of Americanism. Filled the tabernacle with the enthusiasm that expresses Americanism as nothing else can express it. It was a great night for Billy.

It was a great night for the men of Washington.

It was a for-men-only meeting, the first of its kind to be held in Washington. It wasn't necessary to hand out the "for-men-only" sign, because it wouldn't have been possible for a woman to get in.

Probably the best known baseball fan in Washington was present. He sat in a press box with a Times reporter, where he could get a good "yell" of the evangelist. It was Arthur Langley, gentle reader.

What Langley Thinks.

Mr. Langley agreed to write his opinion of the evangelist, provided it wouldn't be printed. Later, after witnessing the performance, he agreed to allow it to be printed.

By ARTHUR LANGLEY.

World's Champion Baseball Rooter.

There is nothing to it. This guy has them all tied to the post, and when he's going good it's Katy bar the door, because he is twice as good as the best I ever saw.

Speaking of one-man teams, he's the greatest one-man outfit in and out of baseball. When he goes into the box you might as well call in the fielders and give them a vacation trip to the movies.

What he hasn't got on the ball hasn't been invented yet. He puts them over, and if the devil ever gets a base hit off his delivery it'll be because he's too lucky to live and be happy. I've seen all the best of them perform under all conditions. He's the one sweet baby of the bunch, take it from me. When the shades of that last day flicker and fade over the old ball lot in September, all we'll need with him on the team is a hammer.

BARON WAR PRISONER.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Baron von Spiegel was a Peckelshelm, commander of German submarine U-202, who wrote the widely circulated narrative of a voyage of that undersea boat, has been a prisoner in England for some time.

Billy then took the center of the stage. His sermon dealt with subjects dear to the heart of man, and subjects which, in becoming dear to the heart of man, have become detrimental to the welfare of man.

And, incidentally, Billy startled his audience with a statement that "I will tell you why the war started."

"It wasn't to broaden boundaries or capture commerce. It was because those dirty Germans have banded with the Turks to try and force Mohammedanism down our throats."

"I tell you, we are attacked for no other reason. The very foundations of Christianity are the objects. I'll tell you more about it one of these days."

Billy's remarks created a stir in the audience. Preaching on "The Mercies of God," the evangelist reached the hearts of many of the men present, and when the call finally came for the trail-hitting, all allies leading to the platform where Billy stood in his box were crowded. A Philippine youth, J. D. Elliot, of Noblesville, Ind., was the first trail-hitter to grasp Billy's hand.

EAT LESS MEAT
IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder, and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

SIZE AND "PEP" AT TABERNACLE THRILL OUR JEAN

Jean Elliot, whose gossip of society in Washington forms an interesting part of The Sunday Times, writes an interesting description of a Billy Sunday meeting.

By JEAN ELLIOT.

It's rank heresy, I know, but I might as well confess at once that to me Billy Sunday's preaching was the least important part of "Billy Sunday's meeting"—the first I ever attended, but not the last. I'm going again soon—and often.

The impressive thing to me was the bigness of the whole thing, the enormous crowd and the skillful way it was handled; the way the speaker was given a personal greeting and made to feel that he or she had an important role to play in the revival.

The thrilling thing was the music, good old revival hymns, which took from the mere volume of the voices of the huge choir.

The remarkable thing, the really marvelous thing, was the snap with which the music was conducted, the variety introduced into the services, the way in which every person at the tabernacle was made to take part, the "Christian enthusiasm"—to quote Billy himself—which kept 12,000 or 15,000 people keyed up to the keenest pitch of interest for two hours.

Billy Sunday owes a great debt, and I suspect he's the first to admit it, to Homer Rodeheaver, the man with the silver trombone and the mellow appealing voice, the man who takes the crowd into the hollow of his hand and keeps it interested and receptive up—Billy takes over the front line trenches.

Credit Billy's Brain.

But, after all—Billy Sunday's is the brain which conceived the revival on this tremendous scale; Billy Sunday's is the personality, the earnestness, the inspiration which "gets" the people, and his wide humanity is the motive power of these wonderful meetings at the tabernacle and the supplementary social service work of his great organization.

The budding O. Henry in search of "types" will do well to frequent the tabernacle. He'll find the derelict, with a week's growth of beard and shabby overcoat buttoned tight about the neck where shirt and collar ought to be; and the Nell Brinkley girl, daintily dressed and shod, who powders her nose serenely and touches up her lips while Billy thunders against feminine camouflage. He'll find the sailor boy and the lad in khaki, always quite numerously present, either with his best friend or with his buddies, and the little dream-maker in whose gray life there is little of the light and color and enthusiasm which get hold of her here.

There's the fat woman who knits energetically all through the sermon and makes passes at her neighbor's eye with her needle every time Billy makes a pass at the devil. There's the woman of wealth and fashion who is immensely interested, but doesn't quite know whether emotional religion ever kept anybody straight even if it set him straight.

Government Clerks There.

One may see Government clerks grown old in service by the hundreds, men and women—and here they are from the youngsters who have been pouring into Washington to take positions in the Government since Uncle Sam went to war. Also an admiral or a general in as full regalia as the law which taboos full dress in war time allows; a Y. M. C. A. secretary—and it's a stalwart, two-fisted lot of young men the organiza-

TOOK ACID IRON MINERAL AND IS PRAISING IT NOW.

"I almost despaired of ever being relieved of my digestion trouble. I suffered a long time, but after hearing still another lady who at last found relief, Mrs. Lala Lee Morris, of Elizabeth City, wife of a well-known veterinarian there. Thousands of women drag about listless, lacking life and vitality all because their digestion isn't good and they get no strength from food and things they eat. So gain relief, read what she says:

"I suffered of being relieved, I suffered a long time, but after hearing so many words of praise favoring Acid Iron Mineral I started taking it and each bottle I took improved my health and condition until I feel perfectly all right now and go about my work with so much more pleasure. I was truly miserable before I took it, but now recommend it to everybody as it will do so much good for those troubled with ailments it is intended to cure.

"The above tribute to this remarkable, highly concentrated product of a really wonderful mineral deposit located in Mississippi and sold under the thirty-year old 'A-I-M' trademark proves that people troubled with that draggy, worn-out, run-down feeling due to stomach, digestion, blood and uric acid troubles. Thousands of people know how it drags them down to feel half sick the whole day long and the Acid Iron Mineral proves it builds folks up rapidly again. A dollar bottle can be procured at most any drug store.
